In this case the Company has the right to transmit the Order for execution or change the opening (closing) price of the transaction at a first market price. This may occur, for example, at times of rapid price movement if the price rises or falls in one trading session to such an extent that under the rules of the relevant exchange, trading is suspended or restricted. The company may offer Swap free accounts for religious purposes. Clients who can provide acceptable proof of a need for Swap free accounts will be granted this account type. Accounts which are swap free must not hold positions for more than three months. Spot positions that are open overnight may be adjusted to reflect the cost of carrying the position over. Details of such adjustments are available on the Website.
- 8.2 When the Company effects or arranges a Transaction involving a CFD or FX, the Client should note that, depending upon the nature of the Transaction, the Client may be liable to make further payments when the Transaction fails to be completed or upon the earlier settlement or closing out of the Client's position. The Client will be required to make further variable payments by way of margin against the purchase price of the CFD or FX, instead of paying (or receiving) the whole purchase (or sale) price immediately. The movement in the market price of the Client's investment will affect the amount of margin payment the Client will be required to make. The Company will monitor the Client's margin requirements on a daily basis and shall inform the Client as soon as is reasonably practicable of the amount of any margin payment required under this provision.
- 8.3 The Client agrees to pay the Company on demand such sums by way of margin as are required from time to time under the Rules of any relevant Market (if applicable) or as the Company may in its discretion reasonably require for the purpose of protecting itself against loss or risk of loss on present, future or contemplated transactions under this Agreement.
- 8.4 Unless otherwise agreed, margin must be paid in cash. Cash margin is paid to the Company as an outright transfer of funds and the Client will not retain any interest in it. Situations where the Company may exercise such rights include, but are not limited to, where:
- a) The Company considers that there are abnormal trading conditions; or

- b) The Account has reached Stop out level.
- 8.7 If Margin level is equal or less than Stop out level of the Client's account type, some or all positions are automatically closed at market price, until the point where the client's margin level is above the Stop out level of the Client's account type.
- 8.8 If the Client's combined exposure in one or more margin trades reaches a level which - in case of an adverse market development - may lead to a significant deficit not covered by the Client's deposits and/or margin with the Company, the Company may in its discretion
 - a) increase the margin requirements and/or
 - b) reduce the Client's exposure by closing one or more or all of the Client's open positions.
- 8.9 Furthermore, the Company is entitled in its reasonable opinion to determine that an emergency or an exceptional market condition has occurred. Such conditions shall include, but are not limited to, the suspension or closure of any market or the abandonment or failure of any event to which the Company relates its quote or the occurrence of an excessive movement in the level of any Margin Trade and/or underlying market or the Company's reasonable anticipation of the occurrence of such a movement.
